The returns we publish this afternoon show the result of the election in this city yesterday. It is by no means pleasant to report the fact of the election of a democratic mayor in Janesville, but if those republicans who have contributed to this result can stand it in its immediate and ultimate results, those who faithfully stood by their ticket certainly can. The democrats elect their mayor by 15 majority, one alderman, (Mr. Shelton in the 4th ward by 37 majority), and one constable by 5 plurality. Almost the entire mass of the democratic vote was cast for Judge Knowlton, and this, aided by the active efforts of several republicans, and the influence of the appeals in favor of Mr. K. as a townsman and a home candidate, gave him 256 majority.

If our republican managers at Madison had given us the benefit of a party nomination for supreme judge we think the result would have been different, not only in this city, but in the county and the state, judging by the returns as they are now coming in. These returns indicate that Judge Knowlton has received a large republican support as a republican and an independent candidate, as well as the mass of the democratic vote outside of Milwaukee city. A republican candidate, whether Judge Cole or any other competent person, would have cemented the party to a great extent, and relieved the canvass of the peculiar features which have characterized it. No candidate had the claims of a regular nomination, and many republicans felt themselves at liberty to vote without reference to party considerations or party ties.

However, as the least said is the soonest mended, we refrain from further comment.

Rock County.

The following are the returns from this county as far as we have received them: Center.—Supreme judge, Cole 105, Knowlton 44; county judge, Prichard 163. The republican town ticket elected. Fulton.—Knowlton 123 majority. Average democratic majority of 20 to 30. S. Schoenover chairman supervisors.

Rock.—Cole 70, Knowlton 97. County judge, Prichard, 166. The town ticket, nearly all republicans, elected, as follows: Supervisors, T. H. Hollister chairman, Simon Antisdel and G. A. Alden; town clerk, M. L. Burdick; treasurer, John Kilmer; assessors, Joseph Church and J. W. Cutting; superintendent of schools, W. H. H. Eddy; justices of the peace, Orrin Guernsey, R. P. Alger and C. F. Hoyt; constables, Reuben Duell, George Young and Wm. Blanchard.

Porter.—Knowlton 79, Cole 73. Prichard 152. O. W. Gilman (rep.) chairman supervisors.

The Strongest Fort.—Fort Adams, in Newport (R. I.) harbor, is said to be the largest and most formidable fortress in the country. It cost about five million dollars.

March has been the coldest month of the season at Lake Superior. The mercury was below zero three times during the third week of the month.

Emerson Etheridge is talked of as union candidate for governor of Tennessee at the summer election. Either he, Brownlow, or Andy Johnson would run first rate.

ILLINOIS CURRENCY.—There ought not to be much of a sacrifice on Illinois money. It is worth at least the amount named in the table we publish from the Chicago Tribune. It should be particularly noted that no banks are thrown out at Chicago except those marked with a * in that table.

BLOCKADING THE MISSISSIPPI.—The treasury department of the confederate states has issued an elaborate series of instructions concerning the terms upon which the Mississippi river can be navigated. All boats coming from any port outside of the seceded states, must come to at Helm's landing, in the state of Mississippi, and report the name of their vessel and captain, where they are from and their point of destination, and exhibit to the custom officer full duplicates of their entire cargo. The instructions are of a character intricate and vexatious, and are very stringent, considering that the seceders have met the complaints of the west, by the most solemn declarations that the navigation of the Mississippi shall suffer no obstruction. They are likely to provoke a disturbance.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The Washington correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel says:

As matters stand at the present time it is likely that an extra session of congress will be called before the first of September. It is thought, shortly develop the policy of the administration in regard to the forts now held by this government. In the seceded states, and thereby relieve the country from the suspense in which it has been thrown by the report that Fort Sumter was to be evacuated.

PROSPECT OF BUSINESS AGAIN.—To-day the assemblymen will be back and will meet at 3 o'clock P. M. pursuant to their adjournment. The important measures now pending are not far from the appropriation bill. This will be the subject of controversy yet, as the arrangement of some of the congressional districts is loudly protested against. Whether the bill will pass with the districts as provided in the bill is very doubtful. The bill to repeal the land grab of 1866 yet hangs by the gills in the assembly, and its passage is becoming more doubtful with each day's delay.

All the business can now be transacted in one week's time if the members would go to work and do it up with a will. We hope to see them off, at the farthest, a week from next Monday.—Madison Argus of the 3d.

HUMILIATION OF AMERICANS ABROAD.—An American gentleman of our acquaintance, engaged in a responsible position at Halifax, writes as follows to a friend in this city:

The United States government is fast getting disreputable. Even this two-penny-one-horse provincial government looks upon you with disgust and derision. I certainly should be glad to know if you are going to stand that infernal humbuggery at the south much longer. I am asked where our government stands, but cannot answer. I am met on all sides with the remark that if that case had happened in any of the English possessions, it would have been settled long before this, and satisfactorily too; and I am rather inclined to think that it is a true remark. The glorious old country we used so confidently to vaunt of, is fast alienating the affections of its own children. What shall we have left to be proud of by-and-by?

HOW TO GET EARLY TOMATOES.—Many of our readers we are sure will be interested in the following method of hurrying up the tomatoes. Try it:

A good large turnip is far better than any hot bed for propagating early tomatoes. Cut off the top, and scoop out to a shell that is a inch thick. Fill the cavity with rich mold, plant a half dozen seeds, and place the turnip in a box of loam. Keep in a warm room, by an east window, if possible, and sprinkle with tepid water every day until there is no longer any danger from frost, then remove the turnip to the out-door bed, and thin out all but one plant. Should the turnip-shell put out shoots, pinch them off, and the shell will soon rot, affording a fertilizer to the tomato plant that will send it ahead wonderfully. A dozen turnips thus tomatoized will afford an abundant supply of early tomatoes for an ordinary family.

Dr. D. T. Jones, ex-member of congress, and a distinguished citizen of Baldwinville, N. Y., died on the 29th ult. He was late president of the New York medical society.

The Benton bank, one of the Illinois discredited institutions, has made good its securities. Probably others will follow its example.

Important from Paris.—A Fleet of War Steamers to be sent to the United States.

PARIS, March 10, 1861.

The French and English governments are fitting out a powerful fleet of war steamers for the United States. The suggestion came from England, and France will furnish on her part three of her first class new frigates. The English contingent will perhaps be larger. The special object of this fleet will be the impossible to ascertain, as it will probably sail with the fleet, as we may surmise, however, that it is intended as an audience for the struggle which is soon to take place between brothers and friends in the United States—as a sort of escort of honor for the funeral of the Great Republic. The idea is said to have been provoked in the English cabinet by the indignities offered to a British subject in the southern states. We do not suppose, of course, that the fleet goes out with any hostile intent; its ostensible errand will be the protection of English and French subjects, and the custom to send fleets of observation; when any great war is going on in a foreign country, and while observing, to pick up any little advantages that may offer for themselves; or when the sympathy of the fleet is all on one side, to send boats now and then accidentally between the contending forces, as England has twice done in the late Sicilian war, so as to protect a suffering friend at the right moment.

Spain, also, although not working in concert with France and England, is preparing to send to the waters of the Gulf of Mexico a formidable force in men, ships and materials.

At a concert at the Tuilleries, two evenings ago, the Emperor again had a long conversation with Mr. Faulkner, on the present troubles in the United States. His Majesty confided himself, however, to the asking of questions, and did not express any opinions or sentiments of his own. At the same concert at the palace, a high officer of the crown said to an American official: "So it seems your hope is going to be disappointed. Oh, no, I hope not," was the reply. "Yes, but if it will. No republic ever stood so long, and never will. Self-government is a Utopia, Sir; you must have a strong government as the only condition of a long existence."

It has been told me, in the most positive manner that a southern gentleman lately arrived here, has had an interview with the emperor, and has secured for the southern confederacy a promise of recognition. He carried, also, in his pocket the skeleton of a treaty which should have been submitted to his Majesty, and was approved, as the basis of the treaty which is to follow the official recognition. But I do not believe one word of this whole story. It is one of the products of the excitement of the moment, for Americans are excited here, as elsewhere.

But there is one fact in regard to the sentiment of the French government, to which I have referred in former letters, and to which I wish again to call attention, since we have new manifestations of this sentiment every day. I refer to the change of tone since the threatened passage of the Morrill Tariff bill and the offer of free trade by the proposed southern confederacy. A writer in the Constitutional goes so far as to call it "the new policy" of the French government, by which we are to understand that the great question of humanity involved in the institution of slavery is to be overlooked by that of commerce.

But a great irritation prevails in Europe in regard to the American crisis; the demands for the manufacturers of England and France have been nearly ceased, while the large importations of grain and cotton must be paid for in money. America is thus getting her coffers full of European gold, while the European manufacturers are suffering. At this inauspicious moment the government of Washington is trying to pass a Tariff bill which will kill off what remains of European trade and ruin many of her manufacturers, while the new confederacy offers Europe as a compensation, free trade. It is strange then that we should see in the current journals of Europe the words "new policy?" It is certain that since ten days, all the journals in the interest of the government, including the Monitor, seem to be obeying a mot d'ordre on this subject, for they all speak in the same tone against the action of the northern states, and in favor of that of the south.—Cor. N. Y. Times.

THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA SEIZING CANNON.—The governor of Virginia has seized the cannon belonging to the government, and which were ordered from the Bellona Arsenal at Richmond to Fort Monroe. The order was given only in fulfillment of the contract, and unless complied with the contractor could not obtain the amount due to him. The Virginia legislature, however, has appropriated the amount due to the contractor from the United States government, which will be paid him, the property meantime having been seized by the state as forcibly purchased at the assessed value, the contractor. This is a very novel proceeding.—Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.

EXPLOSIONS, &c.—A married man, named Forbes, who lived five miles from Seneca Falls, N. Y., on Thursday night last eloped with a married woman named Travers, wife of a carpenter of that name. The guilty couple took the 11 o'clock for Rochester the same night, and went from there to Lockport, where they were arrested by an officer on the strength of a telegraph dispatch. The sheriff of Seneca county on Saturday took the parties back to Seneca Falls. Forbes has a wife and three children, and Mrs. Travers took her only child with her in her flight.

The Alabama convention has adjourned since die, after passing an ordinance providing that the general assembly of the state shall cede a district ten miles square for a seat of government of the confederate states. This movement is evidently designed as an inducement for locating the capital within the limits of the state, but the difficulty will arise among the citizens of Alabama as to the location of the seat of government. Huntsville has repeatedly urged her claims upon the attention of the congress of the confederate states, and seems destined to be a formidable rival of Montgomery.

As we have been in habit of nicknaming the United States, Uncle Sam, it is proposed now to call the cotton confederacy, Uncle Sambo.

We notice that some of the "wild cat" organs are spluttering away at the new bank bill. Wonder if "dad is under that load of hay?"

The Lancaster, Ill., bank has made good its securities, and its bills are now taken as other currency.

The oil wells in Pennsylvania and Ohio furnished over 3,000 barrels of oil to the commerce of Cleveland in January. The total receipts were 8,365 tons.

An innkeeper observed a postilion with only one spur, and inquired the reason. "Why, what would be the reason?" said the postilion. "If one side of the horse goes, the other can't stand still!"

It is supposed the fellow who left the house was not able to take it with him.

From the Chicago Tribune. Illinois Banks.

In order that our readers may have all the facts we can give them in regard to the condition of our Illinois banks, we publish from the report of Hon. S. A. Hubbard, chairman of the committee on banks and corporations, the list of all the banks with the amount of circulation and the value per dollar on the 31st of January last. Business men and all others would do well to reference. We need scarcely say that those who wish to "keep money in their pockets" will select the bills of the banks with the significant word "pay," instead of some rate of discount attached to them:

We learn that an Irishman named Thomas Branks was killed, last evening, in the town of Janesville, under the following circumstances: Branks was at the election, yesterday, which was held at the Rock River House, in that town, where he remained a part of the day, and towards night started for home. Between eight and nine o'clock his wife heard the report of a gun, near the house where they reside, about one mile north of the Leyden House, and upon going to the door, heard her husband exclaim, "I am not shot yet." He attempted to climb over a fence to reach the house when another shot was fired, when Branks fell, and expired a short time after he was carried into the house.

It appeared upon examination that a shot gun was used, and that the first charge took effect in the arm, tearing it in a terrible manner, and the second in the side, entering both the chest and bowels, which caused death in less than an hour. He was in no condition, after he was shot, to make any communication which would aid in the discovery of the perpetrator of the murder.

We understand that Branks and others had been drinking considerably during the day, and it is probable that the murder grew out of this circumstance. The murderer has not yet been arrested, but it is probable, as the matter is undergoing an investigation, that he will soon be in the hands of the officers of justice, and will pay the penalty of the atrocious crime which he has committed.

At a meeting of the freshmen of Tufts College, Chelsea, Mass., on the 21st ult., for the purpose of preparing for a class supper, Mr. A. C. Fish, of this city, was selected as orator; no slight compliment for one of our most worthy and intelligent young men.

SEEDS.—As the season has arrived for commencing active operations in tilling the soil, both in farming and gardening, we would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of E. S. Barrows of this city, who keeps for sale an extensive assortment of seeds and farming tools. Mr. B. is not only supplied with all the various seeds grown in this country, but imports largely from abroad of such kinds as have stood the test of experiment, and which are likely to be adapted to the wants and climate of this country. Among the spring arrivals from Europe we notice that Mr. Barrows has received by the steamer Yorktown, eight casks of seeds from England, which comprise some of the choicest varieties grown there, and which promise to be valuable to the farmers of the northwest.

ATTENTION, LIGHT GUARD.—There will be a special business meeting of the Light Guard to-morrow evening at half-past 7 o'clock. Matters of interest to every member require attention, and each one is expected to be in attendance, and punctually, too. H. A. PATTERSON, Cap'n.

J. B. KING, Sec'y.

JANESVILLE COMANDERY.—There will be a meeting of Janesville Comandery of Knights Templar this evening at 7 o'clock. All Sir Knights are hereby notified to attend. B. B. ELDREDGE, Commander.

THE LUMBER TRADE.—The lumber trade of Janesville has increased rapidly in importance since the opening of the Northwestern railway to the pines of the Wolf river region, and has become a prominent feature in the business of our city. We have not now at hand the statistics to show its value, and will therefore only refer at this time to the lumber yard of Mr. Robert Ross, who has so long been connected with that business among us, that he is known to almost every one in town or country, dealing in lumber. His place of business is near the Ford House, on the west side, where he has a large assortment suited to the wants of the trade, and which he informs as to be sold, in the next six days, at a very low figure for cash. He desires to close out his whole stock immediately, and is prepared to offer extraordinary inducements to cash purchasers. We think it would be well for those desiring to purchase lumber to examine the stock of Mr. Ross.

GRAND RAPIDS PLASTER.—We have received, through the favor of Mr. L. Case of this city, a number of beautiful specimens of plaster of Paris, in its natural state, from Grand Rapids, Mich. This plaster, in the rock, receives a fine polish, and much resembles alabaster in appearance. A company has been formed which furnishes plaster in large quantities and at a reasonable rate. The farmers of this section have not as yet used plaster upon their land, to any extent, but the time will come when it must be resorted to as a fertilizer, and it is fortunate that it can be obtained so near us. We understand that it also exists in large quantities at Sturgeon Bay in this state.

A NEW TIME TABLE.—The Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien railway has adopted a new time table which takes effect to-morrow. Trains leave this city for Madison and Milwaukee at 11:15 A. M., for Prairie du Chien at 4:15 P. M. and Monroe at 3:15 P. M. They arrive from Milwaukee at 11 A. M. and from Monroe at 11 A. M. The new table will be published to-morrow.

LOST.—A package of bank bills amounting to fifty dollars was lost, yesterday afternoon, on this forenoon, in this city. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it with L. F. Patten, esq., Janesville, April 2d, 1861.

CONCERT.—The concert of Miss Deming takes place this evening at Lappin's Hall. The Madison papers speak well of her singing in that city.

Peter Van Vechten, of Milwaukee, has been appointed special mail agent for the northwest. The Sentinel says this is a good appointment.
